Consultation duration

Examples of topics for which a consultation with «PK Tel PLUS» may be worth considering:

- You are finding it increasingly difficult to cope with your day-to-day working life. You have been feeling run down. You are experiencing anxiety, depression, irritability, lack of drive, persistent rumination, migraines, back pain, etc., which are sapping your energy and taking the enjoyment out of life. You would like to seek help for the sake of your health and get advice on available support options.
- You are working in a new team. You have been introduced to your new tasks but still feel uncertain and do not want to make mistakes. You are trying to overcome your insecurities by working harder without reporting these extra hours, so as not to give the wrong impression to your new colleagues and line manager. You are having difficulty sleeping and are barely taking time to eat. You have reduced your social contacts to a minimum, and neck pain is making it almost impossible to concentrate at work. You are seeking help in the form of a consultation for the sake of your health.
- In addition to your 80% position, you are also caring for your mother, who requires nursing care. Your employer is very flexible regarding when and where you work, so you are generally able to manage and cope with this double burden well. For the past two weeks, your mother's health has deteriorated, and one of your colleagues is out for an extended period, meaning the team no longer has the same degree of flexibility. You are at a loss and do not know how to manage the situation, and would like to seek advice.

Examples of topics for which «PK Tel PLUS» does NOT offer a consultation:

- You have had a falling out with your line manager because you disagree with a decision. You would like to vent your frustration and seek advice from «PK Tel PLUS» on how to get the decision reversed..
- You would like to take on more responsibility in your role or move to a different department. Your line manager informs you that this is currently not feasible. You are annoyed and would like advice on how to proceed.

3.2 Reintegration consultation and case management

Prerequisites

If you have been unable to work for health reasons for two or more weeks, a personal reintegration consultation or case management may be beneficial. The referral must be made through your line manager.

Participation in a reintegration consultation or case management is entirely voluntary and is free of charge to you.

How it works

You inform your line manager of your wish for a reintegration consultation or case management. The next steps are agreed individually between you, your line manager and the Zurzach Care reintegration specialist according to your needs.

The service provided by «PK Tel PLUS» is free of charge for the employer (there is no legal entitlement). The costs are borne by PK Rück. For this reason, reintegration support always requires approval from PK Rück, Case Management division. To start the approval process, the pension fund and PK Rück must be notified of the incapacity for work.

You may also use a chargeable service (as per Chapter 4), which must be agreed directly with Zurzach Care. PK Rück does not cover these costs. Financial support may be available from a relevant insurer or, in a workplace context, from your employer.

4. Chargeable services

Additional services by agreement

As a general rule, «PK Tel PLUS» is a free consultation service (standard telephone charges apply). You will not incur any further costs without explicit notification from «PK Tel PLUS» and your consent.

«PK Tel PLUS» can offer you more extensive specific services, which you will be responsible for paying for.

Individual agreement and quote

Any chargeable services are agreed individually between you and the Zurzach Care specialist. You will receive a written quote for the service (usually by e-mail). You won't incur any costs until you confirm it.

If you require services that Zurzach Care specialists are not qualified to provide, you will be referred to outside specialists with the relevant expertise wherever possible.

Examples of additional services

- Targeted, regular telephone consultations (e.g. every two weeks for one to three months).
- External, independent mediation requested by you as an employee on a difficult issue affecting you and your team or your line manager.
- Various courses in the areas of stress management, resilience training, nutritional advice and relaxation therapies.
